Jim-There is something very funny to me about Bud's agreement that James has to be told to stifle Jerry. After all, except for the racism, almost all of what Jerry has said Bud also has said. Example: James will sing on the stand, at Penn, last October. This is wrong and bad coming from an unsophisticated brother but right and proper coming from James' lawyer? The difference is that when Bud said it at Penn it was after I'd raised hell about Jerry saying it to Shaw for Esquire, with Bud agreeing that I should have complained to Jerry. That is not the only place Bud said this. I am fairly sure he did on radio in NYC and I have the tape. Suppose any of the probably many occasions he ran off at the mouth as he does given 1 mike or 2 people, got back to Stoner? What then? HW 2/23/73
